MEMORANDUM

ROLLINS COLLEGE

FROM: R. S. Wolfe, Secretary of the Faculty

January 27, 1967

TO: ALL FACULTY

SUBJECT: Call for Faculty Meeting

A regular meeting of the Faculty will be held in Crummer Auditorium, Monday, February 6, at 4:20 p.m.

MEMORANDUM

January 27, 1967

FROM: Dean Hill, Chairman of Curriculum Coordinating Committee.

TO: ALL FACULTY

COPY TO: President McKean

SUBJECT: Resolution for Division and Department Reorganization to be voted by Faculty at the February 6, 1967 Faculty Meeting.

The Curriculum Coordinating Committee, composed of Professors Fletcher, Herrick, Peterson, Vestal, Wolfe and Hill, recommends the following divisional and departmental structure to become effective at the end of the 1966-67 academic year. This resolution has been discussed with the Faculty Administration Committee and Division Chairmen should discuss it with their divisions Wednesday, February 1. Representatives of the Curriculum Coordinating Committee will be happy to attend these meetings. Division chairmen will be elected prior to April 15, 1967, for the Humanities and Social Science divisions. No changes are recommended in the structure of the Science and Mathematics division and the only change in the Expressive Arts division is the addition of Speech to Theatre Arts.

I. Humanities Division

- a. English
- b. Foreign Languages
- c. Philosophy and Religion

II. Expressive Arts Division

- a. Art
- b. Music
- c. Theatre Arts and Speech

III. Science and Mathematics Division

- a. Biology
- b. Chemistry
- c. Mathematics
- d. Physics

IV. Social Sciences Division

- a. Behavioral Sciences (Anthropology, Sociology, Psychology, Education)
- b. Economics
- c. History and Public Affairs (History, Area Studies and Geography, Political Science)

The Library (personnel holding faculty rank) and the Physical Education Department will be organized as separate departments within the office of the Dean of the College. Regular meetings are to be held with these departments by the Dean of the College (or his representative) for the purposes of communication and to recommend policy to the Faculty Administration Committee and to the Faculty as a whole.

The advantages of this organization are:

1. No new courses are necessary; however, interdisciplinary majors and concentrations may be developed readily.
2. Logical and more coordinated grouping of departments resulting in more constructive meetings and continued progress.
3. Continuity of course grouping throughout the four undergraduate years.
4. Concentrations in various fields may be developed according to each student's interests and abilities.
5. Provides an equitable distribution of faculty members among the divisions.
6. Provides for continuation of the Faculty Administration Committee (the major policy-making committee) on essentially the same basis as it is presently constituted with the exception that one additional member would be elected at large due to organizing into four divisions rather than five. This Committee would be strengthened by this organization because of the closer ties within each division.

Division and Department reorganization

Dean Hill presented and discussed the resolutions relating to division and department reorganization as recommended by the Curriculum Coordinating Committee, and distributed to the Faculty January 27. Dean Hill then moved that Resolutions 1, 2, and 3 providing for the changes in the Faculty Bylaws necessary to accomplish the proposed reorganization be approved. The motion was seconded.

Mr. Ross pointed out that in the departments listed under the Science and Mathematics Division in Resolution 1, a semicolon was needed after Mathematics. There was no dissent and the correction was made.

Departments not included in divisions to be represented on FAC.

Mrs. Burnett moved that Resolution 1 be amended to establish a position on the Faculty Administration Committee to represent all the departments and faculty members excluded from the suggested divisional organization; and that this position replace one of the members-at-large provided for in the original resolution. The amendment was seconded and carried.

Mr. Wavell moved as an amendment that the words "Behavioral Sciences composed of" and "History and Public Affairs composed of" in the description of departments in the Social Sciences division be deleted. The motion was seconded, and was defeated.

The original motion was then carried as amended.

Student Traffic
Proposal

Mr. Fletcher presented the recommendation from the Student Legislature that the regulation prohibiting freshmen operating automobiles be changed to read: "Freshman students, except day students, are not permitted to own or maintain motor vehicles in Orange County during their first term. Those freshmen attaining a 6.00 academic average the first term will be allowed to operate vehicles. Exceptions may be granted by the student deans."

Action tabled.

Mr. Fletcher stated that this is not recommended by the Faculty Administration Committee. Mr. Fletcher moved that the proposal not be approved. The motion was seconded. Dean Darrah moved to table the motion. This was seconded and carried.

Spring weekend

Mr. Ser briefly discussed the progress in planning for the Spring Weekend. He stated that present plans do not include a parade; and that there will be athletic competitions, a full evening of on campus activities. Plans will stress participation by student groups including independents as well as fraternities and sororities. Mr. Ser promised a full report at the next meeting.

Dean Darrah announced that Lady Susi Jeans, the wife of the eminent scientist, Sir James Jeans, would be guest organist at Vespers, Wednesday, February 8, at 4:30.

President McKean spoke of the importance to the College of Parents' Weekend, February 10-12, and urged the faculty's participation and cooperation.

The Faculty adjourned at 5:15.
